

Cuckoo syndrome

Situation: A young dentist (30) has moved back into his parents' house after he has left university. While he was studying he lived alone in a town far away from his parents' home.

He, his parents and his girlfriend meet to discuss the situation as it has become clear that everyone has his own view of the future.

Role Card: Mother

- You are 52.
- Your son is your only child.
- Think of reasons why you want him to stay at home.
- Your problem however is that you can never stop worrying about him, for example when he comes home late at night or when he is out driving.

Your task:

Introduce yourself and your view of the situation by giving a short statement . Then start a discussion aiming at finding a solution that is satisfactory for all people concerned. You are the second one to speak.
